Introduction to Common Reporting Standard (CRS)

- CRS is a new information gathering and reporting standard implemented by participating countries globally.
- Under CRS, we are required to determine your tax residence. This information will be passed to Singapore's tax authority. If your tax residence(s) is/are outside of Singapore, the information in this form may be reported, along with information relating to your accounts, to that country or countries' national tax authority.
- This form will remain valid unless there is a change in circumstances causing this form's information to become incorrect. In such events, please notify us in writing within 30 days and subsequently provide any other additional information as may be required by OSPL and/or applicable law.
- This form is intended to request information consistent with local law requirements.

Please fill in this form only if you are an individual account holder.

Appendix – Summary Descriptions of Select Defined Terms

Note: These are selected summaries of defined terms provided to assist you with the completion of this form. Further details can be found within the OECD “Common Reporting Standard for Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information” (the “CRS”), the associated “Commentary” to the CRS, and domestic guidance.

This can be found at the OECD automatic exchange of information portal:
<http://www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/automaticexchangeofinformation.htm>

The selected summaries are derived from OECD’s definitions. Individual countries may have different or additional definitions for each term. Please refer to the respective country’s definition of each term if in doubt.

“Account Holder”

The “Account Holder” is the person listed or identified as the holder of a Financial Account by the Financial Institution that maintains the account. For example, if John is acting through power of attorney for Alan’s account, Alan is the Account Holder. A person, other than a Financial Institution, holding a Financial Account for the benefit or account of another person as agent, custodian, nominee, signatory, investment advisor, or intermediary, is not treated as holding the account, and such other person is treated as holding the account. For joint accounts, both persons are Account Holders.

“Reportable Account”

The term “Reportable Account” means an account held by one or more Reportable Persons.

“Participating Jurisdiction”

A jurisdiction (i) with which an agreement is in place pursuant to which it will provide the information set out in the Common Reporting Standard and required for the automatic exchange of financial account information, and (ii) which is identified in a published list.

“Reportable Jurisdiction”

A jurisdiction (i) with which an agreement is in place pursuant to which there is an obligation to provide financial account information set forth in the Common Reporting Standard, and (ii) which is identified in a published list.

“Reportable Person”

An individual who is tax resident in a Reportable Jurisdiction under the laws of that country.

“TIN” (including “functional equivalent”)

The term “TIN” means Taxpayer Identification Number or a functional equivalent in the absence of a TIN. A TIN is a unique combination of letters or numbers assigned by a jurisdiction to an individual used to identify the individual for the purposes of administering the tax laws of such jurisdiction. Examples of TINs include the NRIC / FIN number for Singapore tax resident individuals. Further details of acceptable TINs can be found at the OECD automatic exchange of information portal.

Some jurisdictions do not issue a TIN. However, these jurisdictions often utilise some other high integrity number with an equivalent level of identification (a “functional equivalent”). Examples of that type of number include, for Entities, a Business/company registration code/number.
